All files included in this archive has been created by Eric Pietrocupo. The content can be used for personal use and non-commercial purpose. If you want to use the content for other purpose, please warn me first by sending me an e-mail.

There is some material, in this archive that I do not own the copyright. They have been supplied with the archive since they were part of the project and they would have been supplied anyway with the final product since it was a non-commercial project.

If you manage to modify, refine or enhance any work I have done, you can always send it by e-mail and I would gladly add-it to my archives.

Thank you and enjoy the content.
